Morris County Chamber of Commerce Names New President

Morris County, NJ - November 6, 2008—The Board of Directors of the Morris County Chamber of Commerce has selected Paul Boudreau as President.

“Paul brings to the Chamber over 30 years of experience as a state legislator and public affairs executive for a Fortune 50 company. He will position the Chamber to provide leadership, innovation and value for our members,” said George Sous, Chairman of the Chamber’s Board of Directors.

Mr. Boudreau has a long history of involvement with the Chamber having served on the Board of Directors from 2001 to 2005. He has also been a member of the Government Affairs Committee.

He retired from Honeywell in 2006 as Vice President State & Corporate Relations after twenty five years with the company. His responsibilities included local/state government relations, and community relations in North America. During his corporate career he has worked on strategic business issues in 25 states. Mr. Boudreau was twice elected to the Maine House of Representatives in 1976 and 1978.

“It is my great honor to join the Morris County Chamber of Commerce,” said Mr. Boudreau. “The Chamber has a long and rich history serving the business community and improving the quality of life in Morris County. I am looking forward to working with the Board, staff and our dedicated volunteers to build on this record of accomplishment.”

The Morris County Chamber of Commerce, an association of business people dedicated to improving the greater Morris County, NJ business environment, represents more than 700 businesses and their 150,000 employees in one of New Jersey’s wealthiest counties. The organization helps to promote the interests of its members through a number of programs including public policy advocacy, leadership development and business growth.
